The crest of Stradivari or Guarneri in 18K gold flawlessly rendered by Henryk Kaston, "a master jeweler whose work in this area fully compares to his achievements as a bowmaker."

—The Strad, May 1985

In the photo below, Isaac Stern examines a new bow crafted by Henryk Kaston. Mr. Stern plays a del Gesu with the crest of Guarneri as pictured above. Mr. Kaston is the inventor of the Kaston mute. He has made violin bows for the great ones including Stern, Heifetz and Minsk. He is the only living jeweler to work with Salvador Dali. His creations have been displayed in the Metropolitan Museum in New York City and are part of the permanent collections of the Vatican Library and the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.
